Concentrates in Peru

December 2025

Table of Contents

KEY DATA FINDINGS

2025 DEVELOPMENTS

Powder concentrates continue to lose relevance as consumers migrate to more modern hydration and flavour alternatives

INDUSTRY PERFORMANCE

Retail volume sales of concentrates decrease as consumers shift toward bottled water and affordable ready-to-drink alternatives

Powder concentrates is the most dynamic category as it represents the category's only measured segment and maintains relevance among price-sensitive households

WHAT'S NEXT?

Retail volume sales of concentrates are expected to rise marginally over the forecast period overall

Smaller multipacks and convenience-led formats will influence category performance

Functional innovation represents an untapped growth opportunity for concentrates

COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE

Cía Nacional de Chocolates de Perú is the leading company in 2025 in concentrates due to its strong brands and deep distribution in the traditional channel

Mondelez Perú is the most dynamic company in 2025 as Clight capitalises on premium positioning and strong presence in the modern channel

CHANNELS

Traditional retail is the leading distribution channel in concentrates due to its capillarity and relevance among lower-income households

Supermarkets and hypermarkets are the most dynamic distribution channels as broader assortments and premium offerings help mitigate category decline
